Alex. H. WashburnBureaucracy: It
Changeth Not, in Any Land, Any Time

Bureaucracy seldom admits—and never corrects—errors of fact, regardless of Time or Country.

One of the newspaper tear-sheets I brought home from a four-month Florida stay for surgery was from the Sarasota Herald-Tribune of Dec. 7, telling the story of the Church of England's monumental error in the bronze plaque over the grave of Pocahontas, on the outskirts of Old London.

Pocahontas is buried beneath the chancel of St. George's church in Gravesend, near the mouth of the Thames River.

Over the grave is a bronze plaque describing Pocahontas as the wife of Thomas Rolfe. But American tourists making a pilgrimage to the grave point out to church authorities that the plaque is wrong.

Actually, the Indian princess who saved the life of John Smith and later married another Englishman named John Rolfe, is identified in the plaque as having married—not her husband, but her son!

Replying to an indignant Virginia housewife the church vicar admitted the plaque was in error, but said:

"The original records of the church made the error and when the plaque was carved in bronze the mistake was preserved."

Typical of bureaucracy in any Land or any Time—error may be disclosed and sometimes admitted... but corrected... never!

Four Killed
in State, 2
in This Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A two-vehicle accident on U.S. 67 about nine miles south of Hope that left two persons dead Sunday night pushed the weekend traffic death toll in Arkansas to four.

State Police identified the victims of the Sunday night crash as Abraham J. Kendrick, 47, and Laura Kendrick, 43, both of Texarkana.

Officers said the Kendricks were riding in a truck that was hit head-on by a car driven by Harold P. McMaster, 46, of Arkadelphia. McMaster was injured.

The other weekend victims were:

— Vickie McMullen, 18, of Walnut Ridge who was killed Sunday in a one-car accident on U.S. 63 near Walnut Ridge.

— Paul David Greer, 1, of Lake Village who was killed Saturday night when the car in which he was riding struck a horse on Arkansas 144 near Lake Village.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said today that he was granting further clemency to two of 15 inmates whose death sentences he had commuted to life in prison.

The governor said he was reducing the sentences of James Jerry Johnson and Lonnie Brown from life to 48 years. They would become eligible for parole in 1976.

Man Perishes
in House Fire

MONETTE, Ark. (AP) — Eugene Gidcomb, 47, of near here, died in a fire which destroyed his one-story frame house and car parked outside, early Sunday.

Sheriff Floyd Johnson said the fire was discovered at 4:45 a.m. by a passerby, who reported the roof of the Gidcomb home had collapsed.

Gidcomb's body was found on the floor of a bedroom near a small, gas-fed heater.

The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Court to Hear Clay's
Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court granted a hearing today to heavyweight fighter Muhammad Ali on his claim that he was entitled to exemption from the draft as a religious conscientious objector.

The Supreme Court's announcement, in a brief order, clears the way for Ali's fight in March with Joe Frazier for the heavyweight boxing championship.

Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, was convicted 3½ years ago for refusing induction into the Army. He claimed he was entitled to an exemption as a Muslim minister.

His conviction carried a five-year sentence, and boxing officials stripped him of the title he had won from Sonny Liston.

Right Wing
Group Revolts
in Bolivia

By HAROLD OLMOS
Associated Press Writer

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A group of rebellious right-wing army officers seized control of the armed forces headquarters in La Paz during the night, and President Juan Jose Torres vowed to liquidate the revolt.

A rebel spokesman, Col. Jorge Sanchez, claimed the rebels arrested several top officers at the headquarters, including the army commander in chief, Gen. Luis Reque Teran.

A government military source termed the situation "dangerous but under control." He said government forces were mobilized and could advance "at any time" on the military headquarters, which is only about 2½ miles from the presidential palace.

Three air force planes flew over the city after midnight and fired their machine guns into the air.

A local radio station said the planes dropped a bomb near the military headquarters, but there was no confirmation of this.

The leftist military government charged that the rebels were trying to set up a "dictatorship of the right." It warned that "the people will fight for See RIGHT WING

Wage Earners Find a
Little Hike in Pay
Under New Tax Change

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — American wage earners are finding their pay envelopes fattened by federal tax law changes which took effect with the New Year.

Single people get some of the largest cuts in federal tax deductions, but almost everybody benefits.

It's all part of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 which reduces taxpayers' burdens by $9 billion over several years starting in 1970. This year's portion, however—$3.5 billion nationwide—will have the greatest impact.

The cuts in the federal tax bite could be tempered in some areas by increased state and local levies. There's also an increase in Social Security taxes—4.8 to 5.2 per cent this year—meaning someone with a $7,800 taxable income will pay an additional $31.20 in 1971.

But over-all, Americans should have more money to spend in an inflationary economy. Those benefiting the most are the unmarrieds, the rich and those of low income.

For openers, the standard exemption for individuals and their dependents goes up from $625 to $650 for all of 1971. That to Cambodia,

Laos Builds

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said today that the Communist command's armed threat "has increased in Laos, remains the same in Cambodia and is lower than ever before in Vietnam."

Laird said U.S. forces will meet or exceed every one of President's Nixon's troop withdrawal deadlines. But he added that the pullouts would be based on "progress in Paris, progress in Vietnamization and the size of the enemy threat."

Commenting on U.S. troop morale after a four-day visit to Vietnam, Laird told a final news conference that a problem exists in the ranks.

"Our commanders are well aware of the problems involved in a war that is winding down," he said. "But I believe this winding down is a good problem for our commanders to have."

Asked whether U.S. soldiers in Vietnam are displaying reluctance to expose themselves to the dangers of combat in a war that is winding down, Laird said:

"I've had an opportunity to talk to many young men in Vietnam. I've found this attitude expressed by a few but I believe it is a minority position."

"I feel the best way for us to proceed and to go forward in Vietnamization is to see that they are on the alert and are careful, but at the same time ready to pursue and destroy the enemy where necessary."

He said the United States has made a genuine effort to cut its casualties, "and the President and I won't be satisfied until this figure is down to zero."

Laird said his talks and field tours had "reinforced the conviction" that Vietnamization of the war is ahead of schedule.

He gave no new withdrawal figures, saying Nixon would announce the next target in April.

means the IRS will be counting on claims of greater exemptions so the paycheck deduction is reduced.

At the lower earning levels, individuals will benefit this year from the second stage of a special "low-income allowance" designed to remove some low-income families from the tax rolls and reduce tax payments for others through a formula which increases allowable deductions.

A tax break is also provided for people who don't itemize deductions—such as some nonhomeowners. This year's standard deduction will be 13 per cent or $1,500, whichever is lower, compared to 10 per cent or $1,000 in past years.

Single people, who have in the past been billed up to double the taxes borne by a married couple with the same income, benefit by revised rates which assure they won't pay more than 20 per cent more tax than the couple.

Some help is assured also this year for high-paid individuals whose income is generated by salaries, fees and commissions. Under the old law, they could pay up to 70 per cent for taxable income.

For 1971, the maximum rate is reduced to 50 per cent. It will drop to 50 per cent in 1972.

Bumpers also proposed a bill that would give first-class cities more freedom to legislate locally, including the authority to levy an income or payroll See REORGANIZATION

Economy Move by Nixon
Object in Easing Tax
Burden on Business

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon may take a personal hand in an expected announcement today that tax burdens on business will be eased—a move aimed at speeding economic expansion.

The new news briefing of the day at the Western White House was scheduled for 3:30 p.m. EST, an unusually late hour coinciding with the closing bell of stock exchanges in New York.

Treasury officials in Washington spent much of Sunday completing drafts of new regulations to grant businesses faster tax writeoffs on amounts they spend on new plant and equipment. The upshot would be tax savings in the billions.

The plan is to permit businesses to deduct more for depreciation of equipment in the earlier years of its use.

Under present depreciation regulations, companies deduct from taxes the cost of equipment on a yearly installment basis taking into consideration the useful life of the machinery.

The presidential panel which devised the new rules said they would reduce government receipts by $1.4 billion in the first year, $3.7 billion in the second and more thereafter.

The idea is to encourage modernization of equipment and expansion of production. In recent months, industries have spent frugally on new plants and machinery.

Nixon, who has embraced deficit spending as a means of pumping new life into the sagging economy, has virtually completed work here on the new federal budget for the 1972 fiscal year that begins July 1.

In what he terms an expansionist budget, Nixon is expected to call for federal outlays of at least $225 billion during the bookkeeping year.

The President worked Sunday morning on his State of the Union message at his seaside villa, La Casa Pacifica. In the afternoon he continued his labors at his more elaborate office at the neighboring Western White House.

Since flying here last Tuesday with wife Pat and daughter Tricia, Nixon has taken few breaks from work that Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler reported has averaged 8 to 10 hours daily. Comparable schedules in Washington, he said, often stretch to 16 to 18 hours.

Isolation

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 14 astronauts today began a 21-day period of preflight medical isolation to minimize exposure to disease or illness such as the measles contact which forced a late substitution in the Apollo 13 crew last year.

Astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr., Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell and their backup crew generally will be restricted to three areas of the Kennedy Space Center. These are the crew living quarters, the training building and the launch pad.

They also will make one or two trips to nearby Patrick Air Force Base for practice flying in jet airplanes. Movements from one point to another will be watched carefully so the astronauts do not contact unauthorized personnel.

The Apollo 14 launching is scheduled Jan. 31 with Shepard and Mitchell to attempt a landing in the moon's Fra Mauro Highlands to search for ancient lunar soil.

Last April all three Apollo 13 astronauts were exposed to German measles a few days before launch. James A. Lovell Jr. and Fred W. Haise Jr. were found to

Cooler Air
Expected to Return

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler air is expected to return to Arkansas tonight and Tuesday morning as a front moves southeastward across the state.

Temperatures tonight should drop into the 20s northwest and into the 30s elsewhere in the state.

Temperatures were expected to climb into the 50s in most sections of the state today. Highs Tuesday are predicted in the 40s to low 50s.

Highs Sunday ranged from 41 at Jonesboro to 72 at Texarkana.

Travelers warnings were issued this morning because of heavy fog in most areas. The fog was expected to life by late this morning. Several stations across the state reported visibility from near zero to one quarter mile.

Overnight lows included 22 at Fayetteville, 30 at Harrison, 36 at Jonesboro, 44 at Pine Bluff, 36 at Texarkana, 51 at El Dorado, 46 at Memphis, 42 at Little Rock and 29 at Fort Smith.

4 Texarkana
Residents
Die in Crash

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — A single-engine plane carrying four Texarkana, Tex., residents home from a ski holiday at this mountain resort community crashed and burned Sunday morning, killing all aboard.

Pitkin County deputies identified the victims as Preston D. Ernest, the pilot; his wife Jean; Betty Lou Kennedy, 32, and her daughter Kandy, 14.

The Bonanza craft went down on sage-covered McLain Flat about three miles southwest of Aspen under clear skies. Temperatures were hovering near the freezing mark.

A flight plan showed a route to Pueblo and then on to Texarkana via other intermediate stops.

Witnesses said the plane passed over rooftops at about 100 feet in an apparent attempt to land on the Woody Creek road, which leads to the McLain Flat plateau.

The plane crashed and flipped over about 500 feet off the road, bursting into flames.

A cause for the crash was not immediately determined, but investigators reported chunks of ice around the wreckage.

The pilot apparently shut his engine off just before the crash, deputies were told.

Farm Bill to

Horse, Retaken

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Officials captured James Hayes, 24, of Chicago, Ill., Sunday morning after he escaped from here Saturday night on horseback.

Hayes is serving a five-year sentence from Lincoln County for burglary.

Two persons were killed and a third seriously injured in a two-vehicle collision on Highway 67 about a mile east of Fulton Sunday.

Killed were Abraham J. Kendrick, 47, and his wife, Laura Kendrick, 43, of Texarkana. They formerly lived in Hope. Critically injured was Mrs. Bobbie McMaster, 45, of Arkadelphia. She was taken to a Little Rock hospital for treatment by a Hempstead Ambulance Service car. Driver of the Arkadelphia car, Harold P. McMaster, 46, and his year-old granddaughter, were not injured.

State Police Trooper Wallace Martin said the accident occurred when McMaster attempted to pass a truck and crashed head-on into the Kendrick vehicle.

Trooper Martin said he had charged McMaster with driving left of the center lane following the investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick are survived by five sons, Larry Powell, Reggie Don Kendrick, Dennis Michael Kendrick, Rickie Jay Kendrick and Jeffrey Allen Kendrick, all of Texarkana; two daughters, Mrs. Silvia Sue Rodrigues and Vicki Deline Kendrick, both of Texarkana.

Mr. Kendrick is also survived by four brothers, Raybon Kendrick of Wake Village, Texas; Raymond Kendrick of Malvern, Harding W. Kendrick of Texarkana and Tom Kendrick of Hope; five sisters, Mrs. Ethel Smith of Lomita, Calif., Mrs. Helen Gossett of Texarkana, Mrs. Mary Dempsey of Kokomo, Ind., Mrs. Viola Dorman and Mrs. Eva Farber, both of Malvern.

Mrs. Kendrick is also survived by her father, William C. Tuesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Bumpers, 45, the Charleston attorney who was elected with the largest vote total in state history, will be sworn in Tuesday as the 38th governor of Arkansas.

The change of administrations already is evident in the state Capitol. Employees of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, the defeated Republican, were packing the last of their belongings during the weekend, preparing to move out.

Bumpers will take the oath of office shortly after 10 a.m. before a joint legislative session in the House chamber.

Dr. Bob Riley of Arkadelphia, the Democratic victor in the lieutenant governor's race, was to be sworn in today.

Riley will be the Senate's presiding officer when Bumpers is sworn in Tuesday by Chief Justice Carleton Harris of the state Supreme Court.

Other key events on the inaugural agenda Tuesday are:

— The inaugural parade, scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

— The inaugural concert, set for 4 p.m. in the state Capitol.

— The inaugural address by Bumpers, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on the Capitol steps.

— The governor's reception, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the Capitol's second-floor conference room.

Pentagon Has All-volunteer Army Plan

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Though uncertain that President Nixon's goal of an all-volunteer Army can be achieved, the Pentagon has spelled out plans for a major start this year.
Specifics include a $2 billion GI pay and incentive raise, less KP duty, more privacy in the barracks, educational opportunities and enlistment at higher rank for men with special skills.
The first-year program for face-lifting GI life in an effort to attract enough volunteers to do away with the draft was outlined to the House draft subcommittee in closed session last August but not released until Sunday.
Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., called the idea "a bill of goods," saying only the pressure of the draft can draw enough volunteers plus draftees to meet the military's manpower requirements.
Even so, Hebert's subcommittee recommended President Nixon's pay raise proposals be considered at the same time Congress renews the draft law beyond its expiration date June 1.
But it added that Congress should establish future manpower levels at the same time it extends the draft law.

he immune, but Thomas K. Mattingly was not and he was replaced hours before the launch by backup command module pilot John L. Swigert.
The isolation that went into effect today was the result. During the 21 days, only 112 persons will be authorized to work directly with the astronauts, compared with about 800 on earlier Apollo flights.
Most of the 112 will have only minimal association with the crew, some none at all unless necessary.
These prime contacts all have provided detailed medical histories, submitted to extensive physical exams and have been immunized against 10 common diseases, as have the astronauts.
School officials and physicians in the Cape Kennedy area have been given a list of the 112 persons and their families to help detect any potential disease carrier.
The wives of the astronauts will be allowed to visit, if not ill, but their children will be prohibited from direct access because of the prevalence of childhood diseases in schools.
The children will be able to talk with their fathers through a glass partition as the spacemen sit in a newly built isolation booth. This booth, equipped with an intercom system, also will be used for discussions with lunar scientists and others apart from the 112 primary contacts.
More than $160,000 has been spent to place new air filtration units in the living quarters and in the training building, where the astronauts rehearse in spacecraft simulators. The filters are the type used in operating rooms and other critical areas in hospitals.
Apollo Mission Director Chester M. Lee said: "We are going to have a medical officer on duty 24 hours, not only for the crew, but also for any of the primary contacts who feel they may have been exposed to anything that might transmit to the crew."
Lee said the isolation won't inhibit the ability of the astronauts to move around.
"For example, if they want to move from their crew quarters to the handball court on the third floor for exercise, the hallways through which they walk will be cleared," he said. "A bell or a horn will sound, and the halls will be emptied."
During such moves, the astronauts will wear oxygen masks that will prevent them from inhaling surrounding air.
To travel the block between the quarters and training building or the 30 miles to Patrick Air Force Base, the spacemen will drive their own cars, which are provided with special parking areas, roped off and manned by security guards.
Dr. Charles Berry, the astronauts' chief physician, said he is especially concerned about one of the crew members catching a cold that doesn't show up until after launching. In weightless space, the germs spread rapidly and the symptoms are far more serious than on earth, he said.
Berry said that while the system has holes in it, it's the best that can be done to minimize exposure, considering the astronauts have to work with so many people in the final days before launch.
The Apollo 14 astronauts also will be quarantined for 21 days after their scheduled Feb. 6 departure from the moon on the remote chance they might bring lunar germs back to earth. No such germs are believed to exist.

But the court, on a 7-0 vote and without comment, turned the appeal down. In the two earlier rounds the justices directed federal courts in Chicago to consider Hoffa's claims that illegal government eavesdropping should invalidate the conviction.
Hoffa entered the federal prison in Lewisburg, Pa., March 7, 1967, to begin serving an eight-year sentence for jury tampering. The U.S. Parole Board rejected his bid for early release in October 1969. The board said it would reconsider his case in March 1971.
The five-year pension fraud sentence would begin with completion of the jury tampering sentence.

Ali's appeal it would have been highly unlikely that the fight with Frazier would have been held.
The bout, scheduled for New York City on March 8, will be the richest in history. Ali made a fight comeback last October scoring a technical knockout over Jerry Quarry and continued with a victory in December over Oscar Bonavena.
In the appeal, Ali's lawyers claimed government wiretaps were listened in on his private telephone conversations. The appeal also challenged the validity of orders from what Ali called a "lilywhite" Selective Service System.
But, in granting review, the court limited its consideration to the single point whether the government was wrong in characterizing Ali's objections to Army duty as "political and racial" rather than "religious."
Ali is a Negro.
The hearing will be held at a date to be fixed in a few months. The most likely prospect is in April.
Justice William J. Brennan Jr., in a note following the court's order, said he favored hearing the wiretap allegations as well as the conscientious objector issue.
The same note said Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate in the case.
Marshall is a former chief counsel for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund. His self-exclusion presumably was based on the fact the appeal was filed by Fund attorneys. This means Marshall will not take part in deciding whether Ali's conviction should stand.
It took the vote of four justices to grant Ali a hearing. Following customary practice, the court did not reveal who these justices are. All that surfaced was that Brennan favored hearing Ali.

Customs Search Case to Be Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to review an appeals court ruling that customs inspectors must show more than an "aroused suspicion" to order Americans entering the country to submit to a search of their clothing for narcotics.
The Justice Department had told the court the 2-1 ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in San Francisco last March would make it more difficult to guard the borders against narcotics imports. The government appeal will be heard later this term, probably in April.
The case concerns the search of Sandra Johnson, a 26-year-old Los Angeles dyecleaning store clerk, at the San Ysidro, Calif., customs station in August 1968. A customs inspector of 27 years' experience ordered her and a woman companion also crossing the border from Mexico to be searched by a woman inspector.
A bundle of heroin was found in Miss Johnson's underpants. No narcotics were found in the second woman's clothing. Miss Johnson was tried, convicted and sentenced to five years in prison.
The appeals court, in setting aside the conviction, said customs inspectors cannot order travelers to submit to "strip searches" unless they have a "real suspicion" that they could support with "objective articulable facts."

their revolution."
Col. Sanchez, the rebel spokesman, said the rebel movement known as The Nationalist Troops of the Armed Forces had decided to overthrow the government because it was on the verge of handing the nation over to "another imperialism."
Torres took to the air at dawn for a brief broadcast, rallying his supporters and promising to put down the rebellion.
An interior ministry communiqué called on students, peasants and workers to mobilize against the "subversive right-wing plot."
Sources close to the regime said the antigovernment leaders included Col. Hugo Banzer, transferred last week to a remote outpost of the Chilean border. Banzer was commander of the military police but was accused three weeks ago of conspiring to assassinate Torres and install a new government.
The struggle between leftist and rightist officers in the armed forces began when Gen. Alfredo Ovando, after taking over the government in September 1969, began to move to the left in response to the wave of protest that has been sweeping across Latin America's dispossessed masses.
A rightist faction ousted Ovando in October and installed a three-man junta. The leftists headed by Torres threw out the junta a few days later. The junta had been accused of plotting to assassinate Torres and install a new government.

Tackett Case Returned to Miller Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court granted today a joint motion sending the case of Boyd Tackett of Texarkana back to Miller County Circuit Court.
The motion was filed recently by Tackett and Circuit Judge W. H. Arnold III.
On Oct. 8, Arnold found Tackett guilty of criminal contempt of court and sentenced the former congressman to three months in jail and fined him $1,000.
Arnold said Tackett threatened his life.
Tackett appealed to the Supreme Court the same day he was found guilty. In his appeal, Tackett charged he had received an order directing him to appear in court to answer the contempt charge the same morning he was found guilty and that he had only 45 minutes to prepare a case.
An amendment to the appeal was filed late in October, alleging that Arnold acted beyond his authority in sentencing Tackett without giving proper notice, without a hearing and without giving Tackett an opportunity to counsel with his attorneys.

tax on the approval of a majority of voters. The bill prohibits a municipality from levying a sales or use tax.
Bumpers anticipates introducing more legislation as the session progresses.
The bill that would repeal the fair-trade law, which sets the minimum prices at which liquor may be sold, would prohibit new liquor permits from being issued to any current licensee holder. The requirement is to prohibit the growth of chain liquor stores, which liquor operators fear would undercut their prices if the fair-trade law were repealed.
Bumpers also submitted a bill to carry out his campaign pledge to attempt to obtain legislation limiting campaign expenditures.

Victory Club Meets

The Victory Extension Homemakers Club met Wednesday, January 6 in the home of Mrs. Cecil Smith, the club president. She called the meeting to order and read the Thought of the Month, "The successful tomorrow depends on what we do today." All sang the selected song for January, "What a Day That Will Be."

The hostess brought the devotion from Prov. 3:6 and read a recipe for Happiness in 1971. This was followed with prayer by Mrs. Fannie Calhoun. The Health leader, Mrs. Eva McKinney, gave the lesson on air and water pollution and discussed ways the factories and industrial plants are co-operating in helping to fight this problem.

Ten members answered the roll call with "What I do to prevent aging." Mrs. Effie Smith of Blevins was a club guest for the afternoon. After old and new business were discussed, members selected a month to be hostess during the coming year.

In 1971 the meetings will be as follows: February, Mrs. Audrey Hampton; March, Mrs. Rosalie Willett; April, Mrs. Fannie Calhoun; May, Mrs. Renee Willett; June, Mrs. Eva McKinney; July, Mrs. Arlene Willis; August, picnic at Fair Park; September, Mrs. Pearl Cash; October, Mrs. Joyce Dean Collums; November, Mrs. Gracie Alford; December, Mrs. Maxine Rowe.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Cash, and she also read a poem, "Hymns to Sing While Driving." Secret Pal gifts were received by Renee Willett, Mary Smith, Margaret Sumpter and Joyce Dean Collums.

Fruit cake, chips, coffee and punch were served by the hostess.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WHAT WE HAVE HERE IS — NO COMMUNICATION SOUPWISE

Dear Helen: My husband and I can talk over big problems, so why did he wait 25 years to tell me he stopped liking navy bean soup three months after we were married?

I've been serving it at least once a week for a quarter century. You see, when we were engaged he raved about my bean soup—and I aim to please that guy I love.

Yesterday he put his spoon down firmly and said, "Enough!"

I've never liked the stuff myself. Think of all those wasted years! If he can't communicate soupwise, how much more is he holding back? —IN THE SOUP ON HER SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Dear In: ... Nothing important, I'm sure.

Tell me, did you ever let your husband know YOU hated bean soup? ... Or that your taste in perfume has changed, or you no longer just ADORE those chocolate covered cherries he gives you every Valentine Day?

ment official promises more pressure to get her treated as well as working men.

Chairman William H. Brown III, of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission says lower pay and slower promotions for women persist even though employers and unions recognize the discrimination.

"Unfortunately most people agree that it's there," Brown said in an interview, "but not enough, not nearly enough, has been done about eliminating sex discrimination."

"And I think," he said, "we're just going to have to put a lot more pressure on most of the respondents—the labor unions, the private employment agencies, the state employment services and certainly the corporations."

He said the pressure first will be for voluntary compliance and, that failing, it will be brought to bear through cooperation with an increasing number of private lawyers who are taking sex discrimination cases to court.

As yet, the EEOC lacks the enforcement power that Brown has lobbied hard for. The commission is limited to conciliating companies and encouraging law suits by complainants.

Brown's EEOC last year handled complaints from 2,684 women and 355 men of discriminatory hiring, firing, pay, working conditions and restrictions and promotion opportunity on the basis of sex.

That's not non-communication, friend—it's LOVE! —H.

Dear Helen:

A new law here in our California town makes it mandatory that any cat taken from the pound or humane society shelter must be altered before "adoption." This is expensive, and will just about bring to a halt the few requests for pets which save these poor creatures from being exterminated.

How much better to educate ALL pet owners on the necessity for spraying and altering. And to bring the price down (with help from state funds saved by having to maintain fewer pounds).

As for humane societies placing pets—forget it. There is a less than 10 percent adoption rate, even at the best, and less than five percent of the animals brought to most pounds survive. I was at our local shelter one afternoon when 12 litters of puppies and 26 litters of kittens arrived, averaging over 150 animals. On that same day, only 13 people came to select animals. And that was a sunny day. In rainy weather, no one visits the shelter, but the animals keep arriving. Some 10,000 kittens and puppies are born PER HOUR in the United States!

There are parents who let an animal bear a litter "because the children enjoy the kittens or puppies so much." But when they get bigger, off the doomed creatures go to the gas chamber.

Such cruelty is unbelievable! Others still believe the myth that it is best for the animal to have one litter before spraying. Not so! An altered pet makes a more sanitary, devoted and satisfactory pet in every way—and the ideal age for the work is five or six months.

Another myth: Nursing mothers are immune against pregnancy. When kittens are barely two weeks old, the mother will almost surely set about preparing for her next ones.

It is far better, if your pet has an unwanted litter, to put them to sleep immediately. The worst crime of all is abandonment.

The greatest kindness—altering! —ANIMAL LOVER IN CALIFORNIA

Dear Helen:

"Policeman's Wife" said women throw themselves at cops. Not THIS woman! The fuzz threw me in jail because I wouldn't tell my exact age. Then when I tried to swear out an arrest for this cop who treated me so bad, the judge threw me out of court and fined me $25 besides. Tell P.W. she can have her cop. Who wants him? —STILL SEEKING MY RIGHTS

Dear Still: No comment. I don't know both sides of the story! —H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Television's "second season" arrived over the weekend with a flurry of new programs and specials. All this combined for diversity and spice which has sometimes been lacking in recent weeks.

"The Super Comedy Bowl" on CBS Sunday was an affectionate, kidding tribute to professional football that enlisted a spectacular cast of stars—John Wayne, Jack Lemmon, Charlton Heston, Lucille Ball, Carol Burnett and Flip Wilson were just the top-drawer names. There was also a squad of the nation's football heroes including Joe Namath and O. J. Simpson. Everybody was busy being funny.

The result was a crowded, uneven hour pulled up by a few deft sketches including one about the home life of a football hero and a very funny male fashion show of the latest in football uniforms. It was the kind of show that was most enjoyed by the hard-core football fans.

NBC's top correspondents were on hand for its annual year-end news review and look into the future. The conversation, steered by John Chancellor, was free-wheeling and enlivened by expressions of opinion—a meaty 90 minutes that covered the globe.

The educational stations, heartened by public enthusiasm for its "Forsythe Saga" series last season, have imported a new British series. "The First Churchill," a 12-part history of the first Duke of Marlborough, ancestor of Britain's war-time prime minister.

The first episode, seen Sunday, introduced viewers to the 17th Century court of Charles II and its intrigue. It was a handsome period piece with colorful sets and costume and surprisingly frank dialogue. Moving between scenes of battle, court and bedroom scenes, it launched the romance of Capt. John Churchill, then a French mercenary, and Sarah Jennings, a lady-in-waiting to a duchess. The series seems to be a little specialized to have the appeal to American audiences of the Galsworthy characters.

Also on Sunday night was a rewarding hour with the Velazquez, Goya and El Greco paintings in Spain's famed Prado museum. The photography was great and Aline Saarssen's narration was precise and intelligent but after exposure to Kenneth Clark's lively observations in "Civilisation," it sounded a bit like excerpts recited from a guide book.

The New Andy Griffith Show had its CBS premiere Friday night. Andy has finally made it back to a small town and both he and the audience are bound to be more comfortable. With wife (Lee Meriwether), two children and a sister-in-law, he arrived in a small Southern town to become mayor pro tem. He immediately got involved with three old friends visiting from Mayberry, his old home town—Don Knotts, George Lindsey and Paul Hartman. Griffith, once again, is playing the strong, central good guy while the comedians operate around him. It was pleasant, low-key entertainment with a little moral for the whole family.

Famous French Designer Dies at 87

By LUCIE NOEL, Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — Fashion leaders on both sides of the Atlantic paid tribute today to Gabrielle "Coco" Chanel, the most influential dress designer of the 20th Century, who died Sunday night at her suite in the Ritz. She was 87.

Chanel "changed fashion more than any other designer," said Norman Norell, the dean of American designers. "She's the one who made women comfortable ... There may be other designers who made more beautiful clothes, but she had the most influence."

"One of the great designers of the century, who never sacrificed herself to the tendency of making fashion ridiculous," said Marc Bohan of Dior.

A chambermaid at her hotel found Chanel ill Sunday night, and she died shortly after. Officials of her fashion house said death apparently was due to a heart attack.

Rockefeller's Son to Wed a Student

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller confirmed Sunday that his son, Winthrop Paul Rockefeller, 22, would marry Miss Deborah Cluett Sage, 20, an American student he met while studying at Oxford.

The official announcement of the engagement was made Sunday in Athens, Greece, by Miss Sage's mother, Mrs. Nicholas Chryssicopoulos. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Sage and the young Rockefeller have been in Arkansas visiting at Winrock Farms near here since before Christmas. The couple could not be reached for comment Sunday.

The younger Rockefeller is the son of Gov. Rockefeller and Mrs. Barbara Sears Rockefeller, who were divorced in 1954. He is the governor's only child.

Bobbittens Ousted in Tournament

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Plagued by foul trouble and inconsistent shooting, last Saturday night, the Hope Bobbittens lost a 42-27 decision to the Camden Fairview Cardinals in the second round of the Smackover tournament.

Now, with a present 4-4 record, the Kittens go back tonight in the consolation round of the tournament.

Taking the tipoff, the Bobbittens hit the scoreboard early when Gary Rhodes hit a free throw. Goals by David Huddleston and Jimmy Martin gave Hope a 5-2 score with 2:31 left in the first quarter.

However, Fairview came roaring back to tie the score at seven all, on five points by James Strickland.

Rhodes then connected on another free throw and Huddleston popped the net with six seconds left, to give Hope a 10-9 lead at the quarters end.

Fate now began hitting the Kittens as Fairview forged ahead on baskets by Strickland and Jim Gore.

After Hope took a time out, Jimmy Smith came back with two free throws to pull the Kittens to within three, but seconds later Mark Suel hit a basket to give Fairview a 19-14 halftime score.

Back in play for the third quarter, Rhodes and Martin kept Hope close for a minute, but Fairview starting pulling ahead with 4:51 left in the third quarter, after Gore hit two quick scores. With 58 seconds left, Martin hit a pair of charity shots and the quarter ended with Hope trailing 30-21.

Entering the final period, both teams started out cold before Gore put Fairview further ahead with two points. Martin and Huddleston countered with a free throw and basket respectively, to close the gap a little, 33-23, with 4:24 left.

However, only Rhodes and Huddleston could hit any more points for the next four minutes, before Steve Allen hit two free throws for the Kittens final point.

Huddleston hit 10 points for Hope, while Martin had seven and Rhodes had five. Gore led Fairview with 15.

It Was Big 10 Day in American Bowl

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — It was Big Ten day in the American Bowl, far from the Midwest's snowy terrain.

—Ohio State's Leo Hayden ran for two touchdowns, gained 75 yards rushing and was named most valuable player.

—Michigan's Paul Staroba caught six passes, two for touchdowns, to gain 66 yards.

—Michigan quarterback Don Moorehead hit eight of 12 passes for 69 yards and one score.

All that Big Ten Conference muscle Sunday led the North to a 39-2 triumph over the outclassed South in the college all-star production.

Although the live crowd was only 12,000 in fog-shrouded Tampa Stadium, the sponsoring Lions International proclaimed the venture a financial success and said it will be back in 1972.

Reason for the success was a $50,000 fee from an independent television network.

The South, favorites of the line crowd, never got rolling and when the favored Yanks scored 20 points in a three-minute span midway through the first half it became a lopsided affair.

Moorehead broke up a boring first quarter by driving the North 51 yards for a score. Hayden banged across from the three and it was 7-0 with 23 seconds left in the period.

Clifton Hardy, another Michigan ace, started the South misfortunes by intercepting a pass by Arizona State's Joe Spagnola. He returned it 22 yards to the Rebel three and Hayden crashed over on the next play for a 14-0 lead.

South running back Sam Scarber of New Mexico coughed up the ball on the Rebs' next try, with Rhodes Scholar Willie Bogdan of Dartmouth recovering at the South 15. Boston College passer Frank Harris hit Staroba on a 15-yard bullet and it was then 20-0.

It became academic after that and the South's only glory came when Richard Harrington of Houston trapped North running back Paul Dwyer of Georgetown for a safety in the third quarter.

The North was coached by Bob Devaney, head man of national champion Nebraska, with assistance from Northwestern's "coach of the year," Alex Agase.

Fran Curci, who switched from the University of Tampa to Miami last month, led the South after an illness knocked out Auburn Coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan.

South Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist said, "We didn't deserve to win because we played a bad first half. But they stuck together... and I was proud of the way they came back."

A-State Is Victim of Wichita S.

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Wichita State University snapped a four-game losing streak with a 73-68 victory over the Arkansas State Indians here Saturday night.

The Shockers held the Indians without a field goal the first five minutes but held only a 32-31 lead at halftime.

The Indians battled to a 41-41 tie with 14:26 left and went in front 46-45 for the first time at the 12:34 mark.

Wichita went ahead for good 65-63 on a layup by Preston Carrington with 3:36 left.

Ron Harris and Terry Benton led Wichita's rally.

The Shockers were led by sophomore forward Vincent Smith with 20 points. Allen Pruett, the Indians' leading scorer, also hit 20 points.

Wichita state is 5-7 and Arkansas state is 5-5.

Dodge. Allison, who gave Elder strong competition all the way to the end, earned $9,225 for the effort.

Third was Benny Parsons of Ellerbe, N.C., in a 1969 Ford, who earned $6,340 for his work. He was followed by David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., who was driving a 1971 Dodge entered by Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C.

Pearson took over driving chores in Isaac's car after more than half the race had been run. Pearson's 1970 Ford had blown its engine on the 25th lap.

Pole-sitter Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., dropped out of the race on the 107th lap, his engine suffering similar to Pearson's. Petty had held the lead most of the time after Pearson was sidelined.

Only 12 of the 40 cars that started were still running at the end.

French Good Kentucky Derby Choice

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim French is his name. Could the Kentucky Derby be his game?

The 3-year-old son of Graustark, racing under the silks of the Oxford Stable, won his fourth straight race last Saturday by coming from last place to catch Landing More in the final strike in the $28,150 Dade Metropolitan Handicap at Tropical Park.

Jim French, winner of the Remsen and the Miami Beach Handicap in his last two starts as a 2-year-old, carried top weight of 125 pounds, including Angel Cordero Jr., over the 1 1/16 miles in 1:42.2.5 for a winning mutual payoff of $3.40. Landing More was disqualified from second to fifth, moving Brave Flyer to second and Safe Cracker to third.

At Santa Anita, Danny Velasquez bootied Corradini and Nuccio's King of Cricket, 113, to a 2 1/2-length victory over Hanalei Bay, 123, with Swift Savage, 114, third in the $48,450 Malibu Stakes. Loud, 123, was fourth and Protanto 120, eighth in the field of eleven 4-year-olds.

King of the Cricket paid $6.60 after running the seven furlongs in 1:21 1/5.

In a battle of fillies and mares, Greystone Stable's 4-year-old Daring Step, ridden by Anthony Angello, made the $34,600 Tuscarora Handicap at Liberty Bell her first stakes victory.

She carried 114 pounds over 1 1/16 miles in 1:45 and paid $6.60. Battle Message, 116, was second and Emerald Skies, 113, third.

Simpac Stable's Beat The Traffic, 115, did just that by shooting into the lead and staying there to win the $28,300 Old Line Handicap at Pimlico by 1 1/2 lengths over Never Wink, 114, with Towzie Tyke, 126, third.

Farmer Wins Riverside 500 Race

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—It's back to the 20 mile an hour tractor today for farmer-driver Ray Elder even though he's considerably richer from winning the ninth Motor Trend Riverside 500-mile race for grand national stock cars.

Elder, 28, hails from Caruthers, Calif., a tiny farming community where he and other family members grow alfalfa, cotton and black-eyed peas — and build fast race cars.

Elder sped through 191 laps at an average speed of 100.89 miles an hour to take his first victory in such a major race. His winnings were $19,165, all of which "goes back to the bank," he quipped.

Second in Sunday's grueling five-hour contest on the twisting 2.62-mile asphalt track was Bob Allison of Hueytown, Ala., who, like Elder, was driving a 1970

North Downs South in Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Arizona State's J.D. Hill, who scored two touchdowns for the North, says that playing in the Senior Bowl gave him something of an idea about what it will be like playing for the pros.

"I've got to do a lot more than I've been doing as a college player," said Hill, who was voted the game's outstanding player after the North defeated the South 31-13 in the Saturday match.

"I'm glad I got the opportunity to play in this game with a quarterback like Dan Pastorini and against defensive backs like the South had," added Hill, who scored one of his touchdowns on a 73-yard punt return.

Pastorini, the strong-armed passer from Santa Clara who engineered the North victory, hit 13 passes for 169 yards, averaging 35 yards on seven punts, handling kickoff duties and adding to the scoring with a 27-yard field goal.

More than 100 National Football League coaches, scouts and personnel directors watched the game under cloudy skies as the North scored two touchdowns in the opening period.

The first came after Tom Duncan of Toledo ran a 43-yard interception return to the South two-yard line. Three plays later, the North scored on Pastorini's eight-yard shot to Hill in the left corner of the end zone.

Hill scored the other one when he fielded a line-drive punt at

Pistons Win 30th Game of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Detroit Pistons have 36 National Basketball Association games left in which to match last year's total number of victories. If they stop there, it will be quite a disappointment.

The Pistons won their 30th game of the current season Sunday, whipping Los Angeles 118-109. The victory, in their 46th game of the season, left the Pistons one shy of their total number of victories all of last year.

In other NBA action Sunday, Philadelphia tripped Boston 115-107, Chicago walloped Buffalo 141-113, Phoenix downed Atlanta 116-105 and Milwaukee bombed Atlanta 151-99.

In Saturday's games, Philadelphia defeated Phoenix 123-112, Seattle topped Cincinnati 114-110, San Francisco downed San Diego 109-103, Milwaukee whipped Detroit 118-100, Cleveland took Buffalo 111-99 and Portland stung New York 114-96.

In the ABA Sunday, Memphis downed Pittsburgh 114-106, Virginia defeated New York 117-107 in overtime, Utah took Florida 128-116 and Denver downed Carolina 124-118.

Both the Lakers and Pistons took turns blowing 11-point bulges and their game went into the fourth quarter deadlocked at 86. But the hot shooting of Dave Bing and Terry Dischinger pulled the Pistons away in the final 12 minutes.

Jimmy Walker led Detroit with 29 points, Bing had 23 and Dischinger 19 including his last eight shots from the floor. Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West had 25 apiece for the Lakers.

Billy Cunningham whipped in 31 points and Philadelphia beat Boston for the first time in four tries this season to move into a virtual tie with the Celtics for second place in the NBA's Atlantic Division.

Archie Clark added 24 and rookie Dennis Awtry 19 for the 76ers. John Havlicek led the Celtics with 34.

Bob Love and Jerry Sloan combined for 20 points in the third period as Chicago shattered a tight game and whacked Buffalo. Love finished with 30 points, nine of them in the third period, while Sloan contributed 11 of his 21 points to the Bulls' surge.

Paul Silas connected on 17 consecutive foul shots leading Phoenix' parade to the foul line as the Suns topped Atlanta. The winners converted 46 of 51 free throws. Silas finished with 23 points while Clem Haskins hit 22 of his own 27 and blazed his way for the goal line.

Athletes in Fight Against Use of Drugs

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rickie Harris and Mike Bass spend much of the year knocking down opponents for the Washington Redskins, but when they aren't playing football, they're knocking drugs.

Harris and Bass, defensive backs for the Redskins, work in the off-season as consultants to the Office of Economic Opportunity. They travel around the country to explain the anti-poverty agency's youth programs but also promote anti-drug use.

The two players got involved in the OEO program early last year when the agency changed its policy of spending money on summer activities to year round educational and job training programs.

Cities which had been receiving funds for summer recreational programs weren't pleased with the change.

Albert E. Abrahams, assistant director for special programs, said the agency thought that athletes could persuade local officials the summer programs were doing the job.

Harris says: "The summer programs weren't helping the kids. It would keep them off the streets for three months but then they went back to school. And how about the kids who didn't go to school. We also found that the summer programs were aimed at those six to 13. They weren't even touching the older kids who were the potential troublemakers."

While on tour last summer, just prior to the preseason Redskins camp, Harris and Bass got involved in New York with March on Drugs, a national sports committee to help fight drug abuse among America's youngsters.

"We tried to work with them but we went to camp and just couldn't get with them," said Harris. "So Mike and I decided to do our own thing."

The two players were booked on television shows by the anti-poverty agency in many of the cities in which the Redskins played last fall — Philadelphia, Dallas, St. Louis, New York and San Francisco.

"Some of our discussions get pretty heated but these kids can relate with us. They know Mike and I know where it's at. Mike is from Ann Arbor Mich. and I'm from Watts. I saw guys in schools who were better athletes than I ever will be die from drugs. I tell the kids about these guys and they know I know where it's at."

Church Official Dies at L.R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Msgr. Joseph A. Murray, 62, Vicar-General of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Little Rock, died Sunday night.

He suddenly became ill in his apartment at Mt. St. Mary's Academy and was dead on arrival at St. Vincent Infirmary.

He was born in Texarkana.

Arkansas Filly Winner in Okla. Futurity

SALLISAW, Okla. (AP) — Miss Kajun Bar, a sorrel filly owned by Olin and Opan Leonard of Gravett, Ark., bolted 330 yards in 17.21 seconds Sunday to win the annual Blue Ribbon Futurity and its $24,000 purse.

Miss Kajun Bar edged out Sports Bar, a bay stud owned by Clary Spencer of Oklahoma City and Omer Williams of Big Cabin.

Third place went to Lil Eagle Truckle, owned by Frances Brown of Fort Smith, Ark.

The race featured two-year-old quarter horses who won qualifying time events a week earlier.

Winner Won't Get Money From Bowling

ST. PAUL (AP) — Mike Limongello won't get the $3,000 he won in the $75,000 U.S. Open Bowling Tournament all to himself.

There's Uncle Sam, of course. But there's also Limongello's partner-brother, Pete, and Harry Smith of Akron, Ohio.

Limongello, North Babylon, final four days of the tournament that the New Yorker won Saturday with a 194-186 victory over Teata Semiz of River Edge, N.J., in the nationally televised finals.

Jim: "Some gadgets used in expert bidding are so complicated that even the experts become confused by them. Others are even simpler than the methods the average players use."

Oswald: "Of the latter, point count is the most conspicuous example. I used it from 1932 on. By 1940 it had achieved popularity among most experts. Yet it was 10 years later before the public adopted it."

Jim: "Limit raises are a current case in point. It is much simpler to use all jump raises as limit bids than to use some as invitations and others as absolute forces. All experts don't use limit-jump raises today, but the majority do."

Oswald: "This includes the Jacobys who switched to limit raises almost 20 years ago and we use it in JACOBY MODERN."

Jim: "Today's hand shows one of the great advantages of the limit-jump raise. North responds three spades to his partner's opening spade bid. East can't afford to try a four-diamond bid. South goes on to game. Our jump raises aren't forces, but they are strong invitations. West makes his normal lead of the club queen. South takes his king, draws trumps, finessees against West's jack of clubs, discards one losing diamond and winds up making four or five depending on how he plays the hearts."

Oswald: "Playing standard American, North must respond two clubs. East gets a two-diamond bid in. South still gets to the spade game, but the defense starts by taking two diamond tricks and shifting to a trump. South will still make his contract if he locates the jack of hearts. Otherwise he will be one down. All because North could not jump right to three spades."

Improved But They'll Have to Do Better

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In the nine days between meetings with Toronto, things obviously improved for the Detroit Red Wings. But they'll have to get a lot better to satisfy the National Hockey League club's new executive alignment.

The Wings, armed with new Coach Doug Barkley behind the bench and ex-coach Ned Harkness in the general manager's office, dropped a 3-2 decision to the Leafs Sunday night, a vast improvement over the last time the two teams met when Toronto pummeled Detroit 13-0.

Barkley, named permanent coach of the team just hours before Sunday's game, watched the Wings outplay the Leafs for much of Sunday's game only to lose on a late goal by rookie Bill MacMillan.

In other NHL action Sunday, Philadelphia came from behind to top Montreal 3-2, Boston blitzed California 7-4, Buffalo tied Los Angeles 2-2, Minnesota nipped Chicago 3-2 and New York knocked off St. Louis 4-2.

In Saturday's games, New York shut out Minnesota 1-0, Chicago nipped Boston 4-3, Montreal blanked Los Angeles 1-0, Toronto took Pittsburgh 5-2, Detroit edged Buffalo 3-2, Philadelphia whipped California 5-3 and Vancouver and St. Louis battled to a 2-2 tie.

Barkley was named interim coach of the Red Wings Friday after GM Sid Abel quit and Harkness was moved up to replace him. After the Wings beat Buffalo Saturday, the interim part of Barkley's title was lifted.

The Wings tried to reward their new boss with another victory Sunday and outplayed Toronto, outshooting the Leafs 34-19. But the Leafs' defense and goalie Bruce Gamble held Detroit off until MacMillan's unsisted goal with just over four minutes to play gave the Leafs a 3-1 lead and decided the game.

Norm Ullman's 24th goal and Ron Ellis' No. 16 had given Toronto a 2-0 edge. Detroit got goals from Wayne Connolly and Tom Webster.

Philadelphia used a pair of goals by rookie Bill Lesuk to knock off Montreal in a nationally televised game. Serge Bernier had the first Flyer goal after Montreal had jumped in front on scores by Jacques Lemaire and Bill Collins.

After Lesuk's third period goal broke the tie, goalie Doug Favell protected the victory with a string of sensational saves.

Gerry Meehan's third-period goal earned Buffalo its tie with Los Angeles. It balanced a final-period goal by Butch Goring of the Kings after Buffalo's Ron Anderson and Eddie Joyal of LA had swapped goals in the first two periods.

Phil Esposito's 38th goal in 41 games broke a 4-4 tie for Boston and the Bruins ripped California. Esposito split the Leafs' defense in the final seconds of the second period and fired an off-balance shot that put the Bruins in front for keeps.

Johnny Bucyk and Ken Hodge had two goals apiece for the Bruins, front-runners in the NHL's East Division.

Dave Balon connected for a pair of third-period goals as the Rangers scored four times in the third period to whip St. Louis. The victory kept New York one point behind Boston in the East race.

The two goals gave Balon 25 for the season, second only to Esposito in the NHL. Brad Park and Bob Nevin had New York's other goals, wiping out a 1-0 Blues' lead provided by Craig Cameron's second-period goal.

Minnesota used third-period power play goals by Judd Drouin and Barry Gibbs to defeat Chicago. Gibbs' winner came with 1:33 left on the game.

Group Would Abolish Death Penalty

By JIM LUTHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special congressional commission has recommended a complete overhaul of federal criminal laws, including total firearms registration and abolition of the death penalty, even for treason and presidential assassinations.

In a 336-page report to Congress, the commission also urged a ban on all handguns and recommended more lenient treatment for marijuana users but stiffer sentences for criminals adjudged dangerous offenders.

But the sweeping nature of the panel's findings may stand in the way of their quick adoption, some members indicated.

"I suffer no illusions," Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., vice chairman of the study commission, told newsmen Thursday. "The work of the committee is not likely to become the law of the land in the next session or the next two sessions."

However, Poff said, legislation to implement the recommendations will be introduced in Congress and the Justice Department will be asked for its views.

The National Commission on Reform of Federal Criminal Laws went into operation 3½ years ago, created by Congress to recommend changes in the penal code. Its members included lawyers and judges as well as congressmen.

Votes on key recommendations were not disclosed by the commission, although two members, Sens. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., went on record for retention of the death penalty.

The commission chairman, former California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, said he voted to recommend abolition of capital punishment.

LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M. D.

Population as Pollution Factor

Dear Dr. Lamb—In your column you mention "HEW's ill-advised comment on limiting people to control pollution." I believe there is nothing in the least "ill-advised" about the idea of population control. The enclosed article states America is actually overpopulated right now. I encourage you to do further research on the population problem and to reconsider your position.

Dear Reader—I knew someone would say something about that. Of course, we should have a sensible population control program. The key word is sensible. I don't think limiting people is the whole answer. It is not people but what people do that causes the problem.

Jones Boys Simply Drive Foes Wild

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Pittsburgh Condors have a hard time keeping up with the Joneses.

Jimmy Jones and Steve Jones, that is.

The Jones boys simply drove them wild by scoring a bundle as Memphis trimmed the Condors 114-106 in the American Basketball Association Sunday night.

Jimmy wound up with 32 points and Steve had 21 as the Pros snapped a 58-58 tie in the third quarter with an 11-1 spurt.

Elsewhere in the ABA, Utah beat the Floridians 128-116; Denver clipped Carolina 124-118 and Virginia smashed New York 117-107 in overtime.

In the National Basketball Association, Philadelphia beat Boston 115-107; Detroit turned back Los Angeles 118-109; Chicago bombed Buffalo 141-113; Milwaukee ripped Baltimore 151-99 and Phoenix whipped Atlanta 116-105.

In the ABA Saturday, it was Nashville 116, New York 88; Carolina 130, Kentucky 125; Virginia 135, Floridians 114 and Miami 113, Texas 112.

The Memphis-Pittsburgh game was tied several times before Jimmy and Steve Jones got hot two minutes into the second half. After the big spurt at the start, the Pros held the edge the rest of the game.

George Thompson led Pittsburgh with 28 points while Stew Johnson added 24 and John Brisker, 21.

Glen Combs scored 14 points

Search on for Plane Near Mena

MENA, Ark. (AP)—A spokesman for the Arkansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol said the search for an F111 fighter-bomber and its two Air Force crewmen would continue today.

The swept-wing plane, one of the F111A series, left Carswell Air Force Base near Fort Worth, Tex., Friday at 9:45 a. m. on what was called an acceptance flight before it was to be turned over to the Air Force.

Col. William J. Trice, the Air Force commander at General Dynamics, where the plane was made, said the craft carried about 6½ hours of fuel.

The search for the plane is centered in Southeast Oklahoma and Texas, but about 15 planes from the Arkansas Wing of the CAP have been searching a 100-square-mile area of West Arkansas near here.

A total of 16 of the controversial planes had crashed prior to the Friday disappearance. Critics of the aircraft have said it was crash prone, failed to meet Air Force and Navy requirements and that politics entered into the award of the prime contract.

in the second quarter to help Utah charge from a 32-32 first-quarter tie to a 67-53 halftime lead. Combs was the game's high scorer with 28.

Julian Hammond scored a pro career high 32 points and Julius Keye contributed 25 rebounds to the Denver cause.

Neil Johnson collected five points in overtime, including the go-ahead foul shot at the beginning of the extra period, the help Virginia beat New York. The Nets had tied the game at 103 at the end of regulation on Rick Barry's shot at the buzzer.

Crucial Post in House Is Unsettled

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The crucial post of House majority leader will be filled in little more than a week, and still the Democrat most likely to accede is unknown.

Supporters of the two men considered front-runners—Reps. Hale Boggs of Louisiana and Morris K. Udall of Arizona—increasingly are seeking pledges of second-round support from Democrats pledged to other candidates.

Despite continued claims of a first-vote victory at the Jan. 19 Democratic caucus—especially from the Boggs camp—the current strategy is a plain recognition that no candidate has the magic number—128 votes—locked up.

Boggs, the current Democratic whip, jumped off to an early lead in pledges, one reason being the vote associated with the liberal Democratic Study Group was divided between Udall and James G. O'Hara of Michigan.

The DSG support is expected to coalesce behind one of these—presumably Udall—at some point in the balloting.

Boggs strategists now claim 116 votes pledged, with a better than even chance of picking up the additional 12 needed from among 48 uncommitted Democrats.

But they are also angling for second-choice votes among supporters of B.F. Sisk of California, Wayne L. Hays of Ohio and Edward P. Boland of Massachusetts.

Boggs, an organization Democrat with a voting record liberal by Southern standards, launched a campaign based on Southern support plus a broad appeal to urban moderates.

Sisk's candidacy was backed, however, by some old-line Southerners who consider Boggs regionally unorthodox. But Sisk does not appear to have attracted wide support.

Boggs' managers, while conceding Sisk's entry had diminished their chances of a first-round victory, say their main goal will be to get most of the Sisk vote after the California is eliminated, if the caucus goes into repeated ballots.

They make the same claim for the votes pledged to Hays and Boland.

—The news accounts about My Lai.

In other Army legal action arising from My Lai, the trial of Sgt. Charles Hutto on charges of assault with intent to murder resumes today at Ft. McPherson, and the last of a series of closed hearings on whether Capt. Ernest Medina should be court-martialed was completed there Sunday.

The government was expected to produce two witnesses it couldn't find during the prosecution phase of Calley's trial. Col. Reid W. Kennedy, the military judge, told the prosecution it could interrupt the defense presentation if the witnesses were in court Monday.

Fifty-six witnesses had testified before the Dec. 17 recess, 21 for the defense.

The missing men were not identified but were believed to be Ronald Grzesik of Holyoke, Mass., and Harry Stanley of Gulfport, Miss. Both men were able to speak some Vietnamese and acted as interpreters. They were in Calley's platoon the day his company swept through My Lai.

As late as Sunday night Meadlo's lawyer—John A. Kesler of Terre Haute, Ind.—was undecided about whether he would permit his client to testify.

"We haven't absolutely made up our minds, but in all likelihood he will eventually testify," Kesler said.

The immunity was granted under the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 which went into effect last Dec. 15.

"It is a warped and perverted use of the act," Kesler said. He said the general immunity provision was never intended to be used in a case of this kind.

The immunity, he said, was read to Meadlo in Kesler's Terre Haute office last week by William Sloth, the United States attorney at Macon, Ga.

"They told him to his face that if he did not testify they would prosecute him," Kesler said.

Meadlo, who now works as a machine operator in a Terre Haute plastics factory, said on network television a year ago that he stood at Calley's side

Hendrix Says Sarver Will Be Removed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott predicted that there will be a movement in the General Assembly, which opens its 68th session today, to remove Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver.

The state Board of Correction is the only body empowered to remove Sarver, therefore the movement apparently will be to abolish the board and establish a new one.

Hendrix, chairman of the Legislative Council committee on prisons, said he believed the best interests of the prisons and the public would be served if Sarver were replaced.

"I believe the legislature is going to be awfully bitter toward Mr. Sarver," said Hendrix.

Hendrix says Sarver has angered the legislature with what he termed, unjustified criticism.

Sarver said he would not stand for "Monday morning quarterbacking" after the Legislative Council asked for a State Police investigation of an incident in which hostages were held by armed convicts at the prison.

Sarver later said he was sorry for the outburst, saying he probably had acted interperately.

Monday, January 11, 1971

Hendrix said he would be "perfectly willing to give the man a chance to redeem himself and he could do that if he would tend to his business and stop criticizing the legislature without foundation."

Hendrix, 61, a Prescott banker, will be invested today as the President Pro Tem of the state Senate.

He predicted that Gov.-elect Dale Bumpers reorganization plan will be accepted by the legislature after some compromises.

He also foresees a tax program that would produce about $8 million to $10 million in new state revenue.

Among the taxable areas he listed: exempting taxable incomes of $3,000 or less from the state; raising tax rates in some areas and extending the sale tax to some of the services presently exempted from it.

About 95 per cent of South America lies east of a line drawn south from New York City.

Envoy Sounds Out Egypt, Jordan

By WILLIAM N. OATES
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. envoy Gennar V. Jarring planned talks today with representatives of Egypt and Jordan to sound them out on the proposals he brought back from Israel.

The Swedish mediator returned Sunday night from two days in Jerusalem, where he conferred with Premier Golda Meir and Foreign Minister Abba Eban.

Jarring termed the talks with the Israelis "very interesting and useful" but refused to tell newsmen anything about Israel's proposals. He said as he left Israel that he was looking forward to a "successful continuation" of his Middle East talks in New York.

An Israeli communique said Jarring agreed to submit Israel's proposals to the Arabs, but the announcement gave no details.

Israel is known to want secure and agreed borders and a signed peace treaty to end 22 years of conflict with the Arabs.

Mrs. Meir and Eban also were believed to have urged that Jarring move his headquarters from New York to some neutral spot close to Jerusalem, Cairo and Amman—Cyprus, for example—so that the negotiations could be carried on by the foreign ministers of the three nations, not their ambassadors.

Jarring refused to say whether he would visit Cairo or Amman in the near future, and there was no indication either Arab government had invited him.

In Cairo, meanwhile, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat fired a new blast at the United States and indicated diplomatic relations could not be resumed until Washington demanded withdrawal of all Israeli troops from the territory it occupied in the 1967 war.

Sadat termed the United States Egypt's "original enemy." He charged that Washington furnished the Israelis Phantom jet fighters in hopes they would put Egypt out of action before the United States was forced out of Wheelus Air Base in Libya last June.

"But we stand our ground and drove away the enemy," Sadat declared.

Ten Arab nations ordered special convoys to Amman today in an effort to stem the violence raging since Friday between Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian army troops. Most of the fighting was reported north of Amman, but there was scattered firing in the Capital.

The guerrillas claimed Jordanian soldiers fired Sunday into a crowd of refugees marching to the Israeli-occupied west bank of the Jordan River. The government denied the charge. Army roadblocks prevented newsmen from checking the reports.

Former Tunisian Premier Rabi Ladgham, the chief mediator between the Jordanian government and the Palestinians, threatened to stop his efforts if Jordan's King Hussein fails to effect an immediate cease-fire.

Hussein is in a London nursing home for treatment of an irregular heart beat.

The commandos reported four dead Sunday, all victims of sniper fire in Amman. The Jordanian government said occupants of a police car were missing after guerrillas shot it up in Amman.

On Israel's northern frontier, Arab guerrillas in Lebanon fired a number of mortar shells early today at Margaliyot, an agricultural settlement in Upper Galilee, an Israeli military spokesman reported. He said there were no casualties or damage, and Israeli forces returned the fire.

Informed Israeli sources reported that gunners in Syria fired bazooka shells and light arms at a U.N. observation post on the Golan Heights. The sources said the shelling caused no casualties, and an Israeli army unit returned the fire.

Students Tour Local Medical Facilities

Recently, the Hempstead County Medical Auxiliary sponsored a "Tour and See" Day for high school students to tour local medical facilities to interest them in a health career.

The Medical Auxiliary was assisted in this project by Mrs. Carol Lester and Mrs. Sue Sullivan of Hope High School, Mrs. Jeannette Rice and Don Abbott of Memorial Hospital, and Dr. Lynn Harris.

The students who went on the tour were ones who had shown an interest in pursuing a health career upon graduation. They were accompanied on the tour by Mrs. Lester. First, the students were taken to Hempstead County Memorial Hospital where they were welcomed by Mrs. Forney Holt, president of Hempstead County Medical Auxiliary. The purpose of the tour was explained to the students. The

Soviet Jews Interested in Exchanges

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Jews are following the sharp exchanges between Moscow and Washington with keen interest, but the general public in Moscow remains passively unconcerned.

The automobiles of three American correspondents and two diplomats have been vandalized in retaliation for Jewish demonstrations and attacks on Soviet establishments in the United States. But all indications are that the vandals were hired and their targets selected in advance.

There have been no anti-American mobs on the rampage but most Americans seem a bit tense as a result of the newspaper attacks and the anti-American vandalism.

To keep up with the anti-Soviet campaign by American Jews, Soviet Jews maintain contact with foreigners and listen to short-wave broadcasts from abroad.

Life for most other Moscovites goes on as usual, totally cut off from foreigners and generally insensitive to the freezes and thaws in U.S.-Soviet relations.

This uneasiness was demonstrated Sunday night when the back and side windows of Newsweek correspondent Jay Axelbank's car were smashed on Gorky street, one of Moscow's busiest. Passersby took no notice when Axelbank returned a few minutes later.

The Soviet press has ignored the retaliatory attacks in Moscow while keeping up a stream of articles accusing U.S. authorities of "conspiracy" in the bombing of the Soviet Embassy annex in Washington last week and other harassing actions by militant Jewish groups.

The only balancing article has been a report on Washington's apology for the embassy explosion.

The Soviet press also ignored the statement of W. Averell Harriman, who arrived in Moscow Sunday night, condemning the behavior of Jewish activists in the United States. Harriman also denied Soviet charges that the U.S. government was standing "idly by."

The Soviet government on Friday delivered a "strong protest" against the embassy bombing to U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam.

Thus far the United States has not protested the retaliatory attacks in Moscow.

Prison Paper Praises WR Commutations

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — An editorial in the Tucker Prison Farm inmate paper, Koss-Kites, praises Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for commutating the death sentences of the 15 men on death row here.

The editorial is signed by James Dean Walker, who was once on death row. He is serving a life sentence for the slaying of a North Little Rock policeman.

Rockefeller commuted the death sentences of the men in December. Thursday he said he would probably call a news conference on reducing the men's sentences.

The state Board of Pardons and Paroles has refused to reduce the men's sentences.

Rockefeller leaves office Tuesday.

And to those condemning the Governor for "playing God" I can only wonder as to how many, if any, of you could actually pull the switch that causes 2,600 volts of electrical current to surge through a man's body, burning the life from it (life that God did give) and leaving only the scorched stench of burnt flesh and the charred remains of a body to be returned to relatives for burial? Walker wrote.

The editorial continued: "And while it may be true that the crimes the 15 men may have committed were so heinous as to shock the conscience and stir feelings of anger and hate to the point of wishing them put to death, it hardly seems feasible that two wrongs could ever make a right."

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The tragic death of Italian racing driver Ignazio Guinti marred Sunday's 600-mile Argentina auto race Sunday.

The race was won by a Porsche 917 driven by Jo Siffert of Switzerland and Briton's Derek Bell. But Guinti's death overshadowed the race.

The Italian driver was fatally injured when his Ferrari smashed into the Jean-Pierre Beltoise's Matra on the 38th lap of the 164-lap race. Beltoise's car had run out of gas and Guinti crashed into it rounding a blind curve on the 3.66-mile Municipal Autodrome track. Guinti was leading the race at the time.

WATERTOWN VALLEY, N.H. (AP)—Lance Pulsen of Olympic Valley, Calif., won the giant slalom Sunday and took combined honors in the ninth annual Corcoran Cup slalom races on Mount Tecumseh.

The combined winner in the women's competition was Jane Rollins, 21, of Mammoth Lakes, Calif., who placed fourth in the giant slalom Sunday after a fifth place finish in the slalom Saturday.

Missile Plan Set Back by Problems

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy plans to deploy the first multiple warhead Poseidon missiles this month have been set back by problems on the production line—perhaps until spring.

"We expect a delay of a few months," the Navy said when asked the status of the advanced submarine-launched long-range missile.

Navy sources indicated the first patrols of submarines carrying Poseidon missiles may not start until middle or late spring.

Two Polaris missile subs, the Daniel Boone and the James Madison, have been converted to mount the bigger, twice-as-accurate Poseidon. Each sub will be able to hurl 16 Poseidon missiles, and each missile will bear 10 warheads that can be aimed at separate targets.

The Navy blamed the deployment setback on "problems frequently associated with the initial production of a new weapon."

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

The difficulties—set forth—have delayed assembly of the missiles.

The Air Force got a head start on the Navy by installing its first Minuteman III ICBMs, each armed with three multiple independently targetable warheads, last summer.

Last week, the Air Force announced it had completed the first squadron of 50 Minuteman III. Ultimately about half of the present 1,000 Minuteman land-based missiles will be converted to the multiple warhead model.

The Navy intends to adapt 31 of its 41 Polaris submarines for the Poseidon, but has received money from Congress to convert only 14. More money is expected to be sought under President Nixon's new defense budget when it goes to Capitol Hill in about a month.

The United States is moving ahead with the combat readiness of its multiple warhead missiles even as strategic arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union continue. The SALT discussions so far have produced slight visible progress.

Defense planners consider the Poseidon an especially important weapon in the U. S. deterrent force at a time when the Russians have been working on advanced antimissile techniques and expanding their own arsenal of deep-striking, heavy-weight missiles that, it is feared, could knockout the Minuteman force in a surprise attack.

Navy weapons experts say the 10 warheads aboard the Poseidon give strong assurance that at least some of these atomic weapons, fired from the secure ocean depths, could penetrate the Soviet antimissile defense—a factor they believe is well understood by the Russians, and thus should serve as a deterrent.

The unadopted 10 Polaris subs on 31 Polaris boats would provide nearly 5,000 separate warheads.

The remaining 10 Polaris subs would continue to carry Polaris A3 missiles, which can mount three warheads each. The difference between the A3 and the Poseidon multiples is that the A3 warheads are fired in shotgun fashion, rather than being separately targetable as are the Poseidon warheads.

The Soviet Union, with a late

Militant Jews to Keep Up Harassment

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the militant Jewish Defense League says his group will step up its anti-Soviet campaign by forming teams to "trail and harass" Soviet diplomats working here.

"We don't want to build cultural bridges on the bodies of three million Jews," said Rabbi Meir Kahane when asked if his organization's activities might not aggravate Soviet-American relations.

Speaking outside the Soviet mission to the United Nations on East 67th Street, Kahane said Sunday that "the life of each Russian will be made miserable" under the harassment campaign.

The league has spearheaded a number of anti-Soviet demonstrations in recent weeks to protest the condition of Jews living in the Soviet Union and the trial and conviction of 12 persons, most of them Jews, for an attempted hijacking.

In response the Soviet Union has officially protested the campaign. In Moscow over the weekend the cars of three American correspondents were vandalized in apparent retaliation.

Kahane, who founded the JDL in 1968, said he called for harassment of Soviet diplomats after hearing reports of the Moscow incidents.

A few league members followed cars emerging from the mission here Sunday. Police escorted the cars and blocked off the street.

Arkadi V. Gouk, first secretary at the missions, said Sunday night: "Some of our people were followed by some unknown people with provocative purposes. Who they are, we don't know."

He said the diplomats and staff personnel had been followed to their homes and had been called names.

In Moscow, Pravda published a long article Sunday saying that "Zionist storm troopers" were conducting a "campaign of terror and provocation" against Soviet citizens in the United States. But it said the majority of Americans condemned such acts.
